PROTECTING OUR ENVIRONMENT

play your part!

Simple gestures that make all the difference

Avoid plastic bottles and keep your water bottle handy when you're out and about!

Don't take anything away with you! Please leave pebbles in place to preserve the dune, and take photos of the flowers rather than picking them.

After stopping for a rest, make sure you leave nothing behind, especially litter.

Please use eco-friendly or public transport wherever possible.

Respect the trail markers and stay on the path

Protect the plovers! Take care as you cross the top of the beach. Plover nests and eggs are difficult to spot, so can easily get broken. Paddling in the water is a better option.

To make the most of our beautiful landscapes, it's best to avoid visiting sites at peak times.

Our four-legged friends are not allowed on the beaches* of the Pays bigouden during the summer (even on a lead), for hygiene reasons and to protect the flora and fauna.
Dogs are permitted on the beaches of Penmarc'h and Tréguennec from 8 pm to 10 am Shhhh!

Keep your favourite spot to yourself!
Sharing the location of a spot on social media may seem harmless, but it can have major repercussions, such as increased visitor numbers and an impact on the environment.

Keep this little secret for your family and friends.

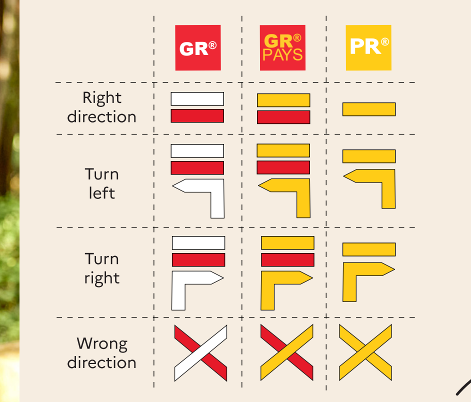
Signs to follow

The markings can be painted or placed on various natural supports or specific supports: trees, rocks, walls, posts, bollards, etc.
PR® trails are only signposted in the direction shown on this map. If there are no arrows, continue on your way.



On-site signage always takes precedence over paper or digital documents.

Notice to walkers

These walks may present risks. As a walker, you are liable for any accident resulting from carelessness or inattention on your part.

These routes use private paths. Their continuity is possible thanks to the agreement of the owners of the land you cross (private individuals, farmers, other professionals, etc.). Do not deviate from the signposted route and respect private property and ongoing professional activities.

Be discreet and courteous with other road users and local residents.

Leave no trace of your passage and take your rubbish away with you.

For the most part, the coastal path is off-limits to cyclists, with only a few areas equipped or wide enough to accommodate pedestrians and cyclists. Please obey no-entry signs.

Respect the regulations governing protected natural areas.

Come across a problem while out hiking ?

Report any problems you encounter on the Surricate application

Check out the trail news map

It allows you to locate closed or detoured sections.

Help preserve our trails

Many volunteers work locally to mark out and preserve the paths (GR® marking by the Fédération Française de Randonnée Pédestre). GR® 34 is a registered trademark of the Fédération Française de Randonnée Pédestre.

WALKING YOUR DOG

in the Bigouden region

©A.Lamoureux

Because holidays are an opportunity to share unforgettable moments with your pet, our four-legged friends accompanied by their bipeds are welcome in the Bigouden region.

There are, however, a few rules to be aware of. The Bigouden region is full of fragile natural treasures, from the specific vegetation that grows on the pebbled beach tops to the Kentish plover bird and other seabirds.

The presence of dogs and certain human activities are forms of disturbance that can endanger these species and their environment. Together, let's protect them! Dogs are allowed in various places along the French coast, but there are also areas where they are prohibited, such as on beaches in summer. They may be tolerated under certain conditions, and always on a lead.

For all the practical information you need and to find out where dogs are allowed in the Pays Bigouden.

Visit our website dedicated to doggies.
